The ETUC celebrates its 40th anniversary

The ETUC celebrated its 40th anniversary. The only organisation that represents workers at European level was founded officially on 7 February 1973. The celebration was held in conjunction with a conference on 28 January in Madrid. This event was attended by many European trade union leaders as well as officials from the European institutions. On this occasion, the ETUC adopted a new logo.

Financial Transaction Tax

The European Trade Union welcomes the ECOFIN decision to launch an enhanced cooperation procedure

The ETUC welcomes the decision of the ECOFIN Council (Economic and Financial Affairs Council) to launch an enhanced cooperation procedure with a view to introducing a financial transaction tax (FTT) in Europe. An initial group of 11 EU member states have announced that they would take part in this.

REACH

Trade unions again help to raise awareness in companies

The ETUC and industriAll European Trade Union have launched another extensive information campaign aimed at companies that market or use chemicals. The objective is to call European firms' attention, especially SMEs, to their obligations under REACH, the EU regulation on chemicals.

Worsening of the social situation in Europe: ambitious measures are urgently needed

Europe's leaders must pay serious heed to the Commission's report on the development of employment and the social situation in Europe, published on 8 January. This document confirms the gloomy prospects in terms of unemployment, the worsening of the social situation and purchasing power, and the rise in poverty. The ETUC believes that ambitious measures are urgently needed to get us out of the mire.

The ETUC condemns government strike breaking in Greece

The European trade union movement condemned the use of civil mobilisation legislation by the Greek authorities to break industrial action by workers fighting to maintain a collectively agreed public sector wages scheme. The legislation, which has scarcely ever been invoked since the collapse of Greece's military dictatorship in 1974 and can lead to terms of imprisonment of up to five years, has now been used against striking metro workers in Athens.
