Onderwerp: 20 & 21 November: PULSE Conference on Global Justice Through Global Citizenship

Conference on Global Justice Through Global Citizenship: the Role of Global Education and Public Awareness

On 20-21 November 2013, Developing Europeans' Engagement in Eradication of Global Poverty (DEEP), in partnership with EADI, PULSE/HIVA, CIDIN and NCDO, will host its first European conference in Brussels, Belgium. The conference will gather researchers, academics and practitioners to explore understanding and practices of global citizenship, global justice and global education and their relationship to the broader international development context.

- For further information please see the concept note and draft programme or the official invitation. The programme will be updated regularly as speakers and panelists confirm their participation.
- In order to participate in the conference, please complete the registration form and qualify for the early-bird registration fee (bank account details below).
- The call for proposals and /or workshop proposals for those who would like to present a research paper in the conference is now open! Please submit your proposals by 01 September 2013.
