Moving from finance-driven to development-centred globalisation at UNCTAD XIII

"Financial markets and institutions have become the masters rather than the servants of the real economy, distorting trade and investment, heightening levels of inequality, and posing a systemic threat to economic stability" wrote in his report to the upcoming 13th session of the United Nations Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD XIII) Dr Supachai Panitchpakdi, UNCTAD Secretary General. The conference, that will take place on 21-26th April 2012 in Qatar, has the ambition to place the focus of globalization away from the financial markets on to inclusive, sustainable development results. Trade union delegation, coordinated by the ITUC, will advocate the establishment of Social Protection Floors, securing states' policy space for development, Decent Work Agenda as well as macroeconomic policies for jobs creation and targets for green jobs creation.

Value of aid from OECD countries declines

In 2011 OECD countries spent 3% less on aid in real terms than the previous year. The first drop in 15 years is attributed to the global financial crisis. The biggest cuts were recorded in Greece, Spain and Iceland. With grim economic prospects and only a few countries on track, EU is unlikely to meet the collective 0.7% GNI target by 2015.

Belgium: Questions asked about the working practices of the Belgian Investment Company for Developing Countries (BIO)

The findings of an investigation conducted by Belgian daily newspaper Le Soir in late February 2012 ("Public aid vanishes into tax havens") have aroused a great deal of public debate both in Belgium and abroad. According to the newspaper's investigation, the Belgian Investment Company for Developing Countries (BIO), which is 84% owned by the Belgian state, "has invested some €151.7 million in 36 investment funds domiciled in 11 jurisdictions", in particular financial centres such as Mauritius and the Cayman Islands.

TUC backs the Live Below the Line campaign

The Trades Union Congress (TUC) in the UK is backing the Live Below the Line campaign. The Live Below the Line campaign seeks to stir people's conscience on the need to eliminate extreme poverty and hunger at global level. It invites people to make a commitment to spend just £1 a day on meals for five days and have a glimpse into the lives of some 1.4b people throughout the globe having to do so out of sheer necessity. The UK campaign starts on 5 March and the global campaign will be from 7 to 11 May 2012. Last year's campaign supported by the TUC and affiliates raised over £180,000 for charities.
