SOLIDAR Weekly Round Up 29-11-2013

Editorial by Conny Reuter

Action? Action!

Besides important events like the European Development Days and the European Integration Forum in which SOLIDAR was present, the Commission organised this week the 3rd Annual Convention of the European Platform against Poverty and Social Exclusion. The Convention was opened by Commission President Barroso, Council President van Rompuy, Commissioner Andor and the Social Platform President Heather Roy. As this Platform is one of the flagship programmes of the Europe 2020 Strategy, it was of particular relevance.

The result of the recent Annual Growth Survey underlined the damaging trends: increases in poverty, exclusion and unemployment, in particular long-term unemployment, and furthermore an increase of imbalances between Member States. This presents in a way the social balance of the outgoing Commission! 7 million more poor and an increasing number of unemployed and working poor, more people under the threat of the wrong policies. SOLIDAR Social Progress Watch Initiative: For a More Social Europe

Yesterday (28 NOVEMBER), at an event in the European Parliament with MEPs Evelyne Gebhardt (S&D, Germany), Alejandro Cercas (S&D, Spain), and Josef Weidenholzer (S&D, Austria - SOLIDAR President), and SOLIDAR member Arbeiterwohlfahrt (AWO), SOLIDAR launched the Social Progress Watch Initiative (read more on our website and download the country feedback reports), a monitoring tool to evaluate progress made towards a more social and cohesive Europe within the framework of the European Semester.

The tool - developed with SOLIDAR members and partners - will provide an analysis of Member States' performances in promoting quality employment, active inclusion, social cohesion, non-formal and informal learning, equality and solidarity and will offer concrete recommendations to the European Institutions and Member States involved in the European Semester on how to spur social consolidation in the European Union. Read more about SOLIDAR's recommendations to strengthen the social dimension of the European Semester 2014 and to promote access and participation in lifelong learning. Building Learning Societies: Promote Access and Participation in Lifelong Learning for NEETs

SOLIDAR welcomes Monday's Education, Youth, Culture and Sport Council Conclusions on enhancing the social inclusion of young people not in employment, education or training \(NEETs\) calling on Member States to take immediate action to promote youth employment, education, training, non-formal and informal learning, voluntary engagement, participation and social inclusion of youth. SOLIDAR furthermore calls upon the Council and EU Member States to promote better access and participation in lifelong learning for NEETs.

In order for Member States to take immediate action on this topic, further investment in lifelong learning - in particular non-formal and informal learning - are needed to ensure that these 120 million Europeans who are at risk of falling into poverty can be empowered to participate in society and find new employment opportunities. New Egyptian Law on Assembly Undermines Fundamental Freedom of CSOs

The Egyptian government issued on 24 November a law that bans all street protests and foresees jail sentences or heavy fines to those who join any public demonstration. This new legislation is a serious crackdown on the fundamental right to freedom of association and peaceful assembly, which are not only fundamental freedoms but also the cornerstones of any democratic system (read more about SOLIDAR's campaign on freedom of association and briefing paper). The law follows the three-month state of emergency declared in August after the government used deadly force to cripple street protests and suspended civil protection against police abuse.

SOLIDAR supports the joint statement issued before the promulgation of the law by 19 Egyptian social and human rights organisations, among them two partners of the SOLIDAR cooperation network "Social Justice in the Middle East and North Africa" (the Cairo Institute for Human Rights Studies and the Egyptian Centre for Economic and Social Rights - ECESR) and the Egyptian member of the Global Network, Land Center for Human Rights.
