Onderwerp: Attacked by their own government

Dear Friend,

Twenty-five years ago, surgeon Jiang Yanyong treated students who poured into Beijing's 301 Military Hospital – students who were brutally attacked by their own government.

Twenty-five years ago, Chinese military tanks rolled into Tiananmen Square, unleashing terror on the thousands of people gathered to protest peacefully.

Become a Human Rights Watch Protector today. We will count on your monthly contribution to help ensure that whenever a government turns on its people, Human Rights Watch will be there to document abuse, uncover the facts, and work to make a difference.

In the twenty-five years since Tiananmen, Dr. Jiang Yanyong has been abducted from his office, forced to undergo seven weeks of “study sessions,” and subjected to months of house arrest.

Because he remembered. Because he refused to be silenced.

Stand with us and use your monthly contribution to show the Chinese government, and the world, that you remember. Become a Human Rights Watch Protector today.

We rely on our Protectors to help us continue investigating abuses and exposing the truth in China. The truth about the government's harmful family planning policies. The truth about its systemic silencing of local rights activists. It is because of you that we are able to bring stories like Jiang's to the world, and lay the groundwork for meaningful reform.

Become a Human Rights Watch Protector, and join us as we continue to pressure governments to respect the rights of their people – in China and around the world.

Sincerely,
