

Van: Human Rights Watch <news@hrw.org>
Verzonden: woensdag 5 november 2014 23:36
Aan: Veerle Solia
Onderwerp: Child Marriage in Tanzania

Read the entire Women's Rights Spotlight on our website, click here.

Women's Rights Spotlight

Child marriage in Tanzania: dowries, domestic violence, and banning girls from education

Storified by Human Rights Watch · Wed, Nov 05 2014 22:13:02

Welcome to Human Rights Watch's women's rights newsletter. This brief will highlight important research and developments in Human Rights Watch's work to protect and defend women's rights around the world. You are receiving this update because you were once subscribed to our previous women's rights newsletter. If you wish to unsubscribe, an option is listed below.

Last week, we released a new report documenting how child marriage in Tanzania interrupts and often ends girls' education, and exposes them to violence and exploitation – including marital rape and female genital mutilation (FGM) – as well as reproductive health risks.

mia farrow
@MiaFarrow

Girls as young as 7 subjected to 'marriage', rape, violence, #FGM & denied education #Tanzania <http://t.co/eGTUatwniB>

29 OCTOBER 2014 15:31

REPLY

RETWEET

FAVORITE

Girl Summit
@GirlSummit

Did you know? In Tanzania 4/10 girls are married before their 18th b'day. Powerful feature by @hrw <http://t.co/mUUxe6s2UY> #endchildmarriage

2 NOVEMBER 2014 11:20

REPLY

RETWEET

FAVORITE

Our research found that girls were forced to leave school to marry and few were able to return. Tanzanian government policy allows schools to expel or exclude married students or pregnant girls.

World Bank Education
@WBeducation

If all girls received a secondary education, 64% fewer girls would be locked in #childmarriage <http://t.co/mHsqPoqDtg> #girlseducation

29 OCTOBER 2014 16:02

REPLY RETWEET FAVORITE

Hrw

Jacinta, 15, photographed by Marcus Bleasdale, was excluded from school after her teachers took her for a pregnancy test. She gave birth prematurely and her baby did not survive. August 5, 2014.

Education is one of the most effective ways to combat #childmarriage. #ENDviolence Via @unicefssudan <http://t.co/wSf1bNpNsE>

 UNICEF . 20 OCTOBER 2014 10:35

 REPLY  RETWEET  FAVORITE

Girls Not Brides
@GirlsNotBrides

Did you know? 44% of women in Tanzania are pregnant by age 19. Find out more:
<http://t.co/hNTf95dd5h> #endchildmarriage

 30 OCTOBER 2014 18:52

 REPLY  RETWEET  FAVORITE

UN Women
@UN_Women

Watch @HRW's new video documenting #childmarriage in #Tanzania
<http://t.co/YoJ4pj9Uio>

 30 OCTOBER 2014 10:30

 REPLY  RETWEET  FAVORITE

Dowry payment is a major factor driving child marriage in Tanzania. Dowry is negotiated by a man and his family and is paid to a woman's family in the form of money, livestock, or a combination of both.

Aruna Kashyap
@aruna_kashyap

Dowry, poor access to schools, child labor & abuse among causes of #childmarriage in #Tanzania finds @hrw <http://t.co/6RVwOO3kmM>

31 OCTOBER 2014 19:30

REPLY

RETWEET

FAVORITE

Hrw

Anita's father forced her to leave school and marry when she was 16 years old. When Anita and her mother objected to the marriage, her father beat them, saying that he had already accepted the dowry. Moshi, Tanzania. August 7, 2014.

Rothna Begum
@Rothna_Begum

Tragic tales of #childmarriage #fgm in #Tanzania Girls married in return for cows.
New @hrw report and video: <http://t.co/0TeffZ4fFk>

 1 NOVEMBER 2014 10:19

 REPLY  RETWEET  FAVORITE

HuffPost Impact
@HuffPostImpact

Four in 10 Tanzanian women married before turning 18 <http://t.co/IxwRGHuDso>
#globalmotherhood #jnjl

 30 OCTOBER 2014 13:00

 REPLY  RETWEET  FAVORITE

Among the ethnic groups of the Maasai and Gogo, where Human Rights Watch conducted research, FGM is primarily a rite of passage to prepare girls for marriage. Girls from the Maasai and Gogo groups said once they had been cut, marriage would soon follow.

hrw

Clara, 17, was forced to undergo FGM at the age of 9. When her family told her she was going to be cut, she tried to run away but was caught and brought back. Kilimanjaro, Tanzania. August 8, 2014.

Read the entire Women's Rights Spotlight on our website <http://www.hrw.org/womens-rights-spotlight>

Remove yourself from this mailing.

--
This message has been scanned for viruses and dangerous content by Amsab-ISG, and is believed to be clean.