Dear Supporter,

Please, stand behind our researchers.

Whether defending the dignity and equality of LGBT people, exposing the abuse of child workers on US tobacco farms, or helping rid the world of chemical weapons, the work of our researchers can seem long, hard, and at times, hopeless.

Let them know you have their back by making a tax-deductible donation today.

Your generous gift will show them they have an entire community of support—people just like you—who know that they are making change for countless lives.

Because make no mistake, when a Human Rights Watch researcher is on the ground they are reining in abuses and taking steps toward meaningful change.

Your tax-deductible donation will ensure that our researchers can continue to amplify the voices of victims, expose the truth, and save lives.

There are only a few days left—please give right now.

Thank you,

Michele Alexander
