Dear Supporter,

I know that because of you, our researchers are able to save lives and strengthen the global human rights movement every day.

Human Rights Watch researchers investigate abuses, expose the truth, and advocate for meaningful change because you choose to stand with them. Because you know that if they don't continue their vital work, there are few others who can.

Please, make your tax-deductible donation today to keep Human Rights Watch researchers on the ground.

Around the world, men, women, and children count on them. They are counting on you.
